Rising Together: CCNP's Commitment to Community

INTRODUCTION

RIISING TOGETHER: Central City Neighborhood Partners' Commitment to Community

After living through fifteen months of the COVID-19 pandemic, we found ourselves still in masks, navigating vaccinations and variants; still reeling from the losses of loved ones, loss of stability, and the loss of a rhythm of life we were accustomed to. Uncertain if life would ever be the same, CCNP's commitment to community was stronger than ever before.

As one of the only organizations to remain physically open and accessible in the Westlake/Pico-Union neighborhoods, CCNP adapted to the needs of tens of thousands of community members, expanded programming and refocused on financial well-being, housing stability, academic success and access to essential services. Where others saw barriers and loss of hope, CCNP saw resilience and an opportunity to rise together. It was during this time that CCNP exemplified the meaning of being a true neighborhood partner.

The 2021-2022 annual report is dedicated to long-time CCNP Promotora, partner, and friend, Maria Elena Garcia, who exemplified a commitment to community.

CCNP'S COVID-19 RESPONSE

"Now we feel safe sending our kids to school knowing that they are vaccinated."

ACCESS TO HEALTH RESOURCES

CCNP in collaboration with multiple partners ensured that equitable access to health resources were available for all community members. This year CCNP buckled down and offered accurate COVID-19 information, weekly COVID-19 testing and multiple COVID-19 vaccination events. CCNP could have not done this alone.

CCNP'S COVID-19 RESPONSE

Since 2016, CCNP has responded to food insecurity through the distribution of healthy food items to the Westlake/ Pico-Union and surrounding communities.

The COVID-19 pandemic caused an exponential increase in the number of households in need of this essential service. In response and with the support of key partners, including the Los Angeles Regional Food Bank and Sam Simon Feeding Families Foundation, CCNP expanded the Food Security Program to meet the needs of the community, to include grocery food distribution, pop-up food distribution, hot meal delivery, and nutrition education 52 weeks a year.

CCNP'S COVID-19 RESPONSE

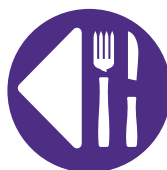

"I save time and money by receiving our weekly meals. Now I can go to my doctor appointments having eaten a healthy meal."

CCNP continued to be that trusted organization providing access to essential services and remained committed to our core mission and vision, while adapting to the sudden changes to better serve the needs of our community.

"Having a big family comes with a lot of expenses. With the help of CCNP I can meet all of these needs."

"I like the diaper event a lot because it helps me save money. The staff is quick and polite, along with everything being easy to understand. I also appreciate that everyone wears masks while picking up their diapers and that there is hand sanitizer available to customers!"

"Thank you, CCNP for providing us with diapers. We know we can always count on CCNP to help the community."

"I have a family of 8. It costs so much money to be able to afford the basic necessities for us all, so the diaper event is so helpful. I know I can always count on CCNP and my kids can too."

"The money I save from coming to this event I use it to buy my children things that make them happy, even if it is something small."

EQUAL ACCESS TO ESSENTIAL SERVICES

CCNP assisted 360 community members with public benefit applications, including health insurance, CalFresh, CalWorks, Unemployment, utility discount programs, rental assistance, and other life-enhancing services.

"Thank you very much for all the services and events that we are having today. The services help everyone, especially the elderly and thank you very much to the young people for helping today and for continuing to help."

"It is going to help me a lot if I qualify for CalFresh especially my family as that money will help me buy food and the money I am saving will help me pay my other bills that I am behind in."

ENSURING FINANCIAL SECURITY

During the 2021-2022 program year, over 400 individuals participated in CCNP Financial Empowerment programs.

27 CCNP participants opened bank accounts

29 participants increased their savings

158 increased their overall financial well-being/security

"Thank you for helping with the internet application and also for always informing me about resources and programs that could be beneficial for me."

BUILDING FINANCIAL HABITATS THAT LEAD TO FINANCIAL STABILITY.

Ceyda P. has been participating with CCNP for several years. In the last two years Ceyda has realized the importance in saving, and joined CCNP's Matched Emergency Savings Account Program, MESA. Month after month, Ceyda made her monthly deposits and in May 2022 she completed the 6-month program with a total savings of $1,500 and with a match from CCNP of $340. Ceyda stated that she was able to develop a habit of putting money on the side through this program and will keep doing so long after the program. "Thanks to the CCNP MESA Program I was able to gain a positive habit and I want to keep implementing it in the future."

ENSURING FINANCIAL SECURITY

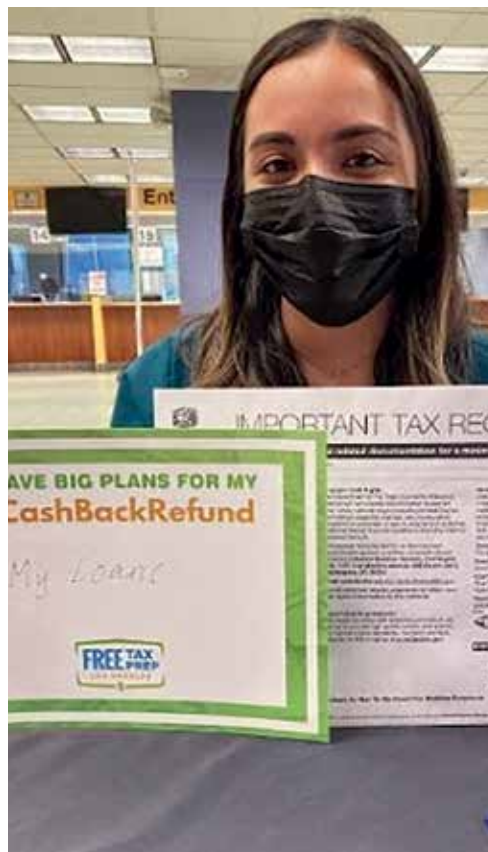

Margarita H. has been a participant in CCNP's financial coaching program since 2018. When she began meeting with her financial coaches, Margarita had recently separated from her partner of over 20 years and was feeling lost, especially with her finances. In 2018, Margarita was unscored and had no idea what credit meant. Over the years her financial coach continued to help her build on her finances. In February 2022, Margarita and her coach pulled her credit score, and to her surprise, she was scored at 726. Throughout the last 3 years she has opened a checking account, two credit builder accounts, and now a savings account to participate in CCNP's MESA program (matched emergency saving account). She stated that she was relieved to know that not only had she build credit, but had a higher credit limit. Along the way, she consistently mentioned how happy she is to have learned so many good habits of savings and healthy spending throughout her sessions and has a sense of accomplishment. Her next financial goal is to open a credit card in order to have a variety of credit lines. Along with her financial goals, Margarita has also worked on her career goals. One of the skills that she had started to work on pre-pandemic was her computer skills. She paid for a school but felt unsupported once the class ended. When her coach informed her that CCNP is launching a new program (Microsoft Digital literacy training) she jumped on the opportunity. As she progressed, she became much more confident in her skills of sending and receiving emails, creating a word document, and using an excel sheet to create her personal budget.

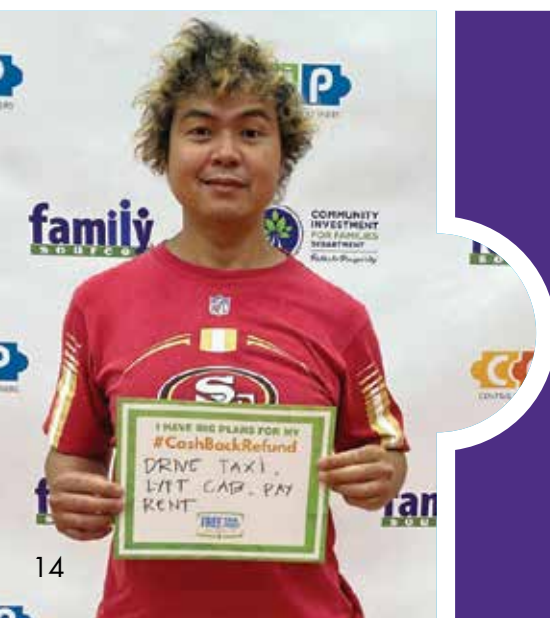

"Thank you for providing the services that I really need. I took a computer class before, but the teacher was not as understanding and patient as CCNP is. I learned a little then but was not helped with continuing to practice and activities. Here, with CCNP I feel I have that support that I need and know will be ongoing. I appreciate the digital literacy training as well as continuing to work with my coach on my credit."

ENSURING FINANCIAL SECURITY: VITA

During the 2021-2022 program year,
1,731 low-income households completed their tax returns putting over $3,856,709
directly back into community!

"Thank you very much to CCNP. They have helped me a lot and they have taken me in as a family. There are more people who do not know about these programs, and I invite them to come get help with their taxes for free and much more help. We are very grateful."

"Gracias por todo lo que hacen. Se tomaron el tiempo para explicarme todo y garantizar que consigo el reembolso correcto. No sabe cuánto me ayudará este dinero. Regresaré el próximo año para hacer mis impuestos del año."

"Thank you for all you do. You took the time to explain things to me and ensure I get the correct refund. You have no idea how much this money will be help me. I will be coming back next year for my taxes."

ENSURING FINANCIAL SECURITY: VITA

Israel and Leticia were first time tax filers and heard about CCNP's VITA program and decided to give it a try. With the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic, Israel, like many others, lost his job and fell behind on rent and had trouble making ends meet. With four children at home, Israel and Leticia knew it was crucial to apply for an ITIN and file their taxes to ensure financial stability. After two months, they received ITIN approval letters and were able to file both federal and state tax returns. Through CCNP's VITA program, the family increased their awareness about the tax preparation process which opened their opportunities to qualify for credits, including EITC, CalEITC, Child Tax Credit, Young Child Tax Credit, and COVID-19 stimulus funds. The family received over $8,000 in tax refunds which they used to pay their rent, pay off debts, and purchase essential items for their family.

"Muchas gracias CCNP. Ya pedimos una cita para hacer nuestros impuestos. La verdad es para nuestra familia que no ganamos tanto, es un gran alivio. Nosotros claro que vamos a regresar cada año, y mi hermana también está haciendo sus impuestos con CCNP. Nosotros les decimos a todas nuestras amistades para que también puedan ahorrar."

"Thank you very much CCNP. We already made an appointment to do our taxes. The truth is for our family that we don't earn that much, it's a great relief. Of course, we are going to return every year, and my sister is also doing her taxes with CCNP. We tell all our friends so that they can also save."

ENSURING HOUSING STABILITY

"Thank you very much, and God bless you, your supervisor, and CCNP because you did everything possible to connect me with legal assistance. I'm not only thanking you for helping me, but for all the people who are helped there in the center, because there are many families who are looking for assistance. God Bless."

CCNP in collaboration with multiple partners took steps to ensure the community had equitable access to updated COVID-19 information, understood their housing rights and was actively helping families stay housed during this unsettling time.

COLLABORATION IN ACTION.

Ms. M came to CCNP with a looming court order for eviction. As a family of nine, seven of which are 12 and younger, Ms. M was worried that she and her family would be removed from their home. In collaboration with Legal Aid Foundation of Los Angeles (LAFLA) and Community Investment For Families (CIFD) CCNP was able to connect Ms. M and her family with a free legal service provider. Ms. M worked with CCNP's Tenant Stability Advisor and the legal service provider to ensure she had a solid case against eviction. Ms. M. also received financial coaching assistance, and learned how to better manage her money. As Ms. M awaited for her options, the relationship with her landlord continued to be strained. However, with the help of CCNP and the legal provider, threats for eviction were properly handled alleviating the family's stress. In October, good news was delivered and Ms. M was able to pay off her rent and the court case was dropped! Ms. M is grateful for the services CCNP has to offer as her whole demeanor changed and her mental health improved!

ENSURING HOUSING STABILITY

During the 2021-2022 program year, CCNP buckled down and worked hard to ensure community members stay housed. CCNP worked tirelessly to ensure that individuals got the support they needed and connected them to legal services.

77 individuals participated in the Eviction Defense Program, with 62 reducing their housing instability.

KEEPING FAMILIES HOUSED.

With a family of four, including a High School Senior preparing to go off to college, Mr. R and his family could only gather so much extra each month to pay off their arrears. When he received a letter from his Landlord's lawyer, threatening a 3-Day Perform or Quit, Mr. R was frightened that his family would finally lose their home. Mr. R. reached out to CCNP and with the help of the Housing Stability Advisor, they completed a StayHousedLA referral in the event that the Landlord followed through with her actions. CCNP reached out to the landlord, and was able to get verbal confirmation that she was simply trying to get the back rent paid, but did not really want to go through an eviction. An agreement was made that the landlord would stand down and allow for the family to pay back their arrears in an adequate time as long as they kept paying their current rent. Through collaborations, Mr. R and his family stayed safe in their comfort of their home: "Thank you very much. CCNP has relieved us from extra pressure. We have less stress now, and are planning for what's next."

"Me siento 100% apoyada por CCNP. Gracias por la ayuda que me han brindado. Estoy más tranquila."

"I feel 100% supported by CCNP. Thank you for the help that you have provided. I am calmer [now]."

"Estoy bien agradecida. Que diosito la bendiga. Me salen las lágrimas porque llegue [a CCNP] en un tiempo que no teníamos nada. Muchas gracias. Dios los puso en mi camino para poder superar este tiempo."

"I am very grateful. May God bless you. I cry because I came [to CCNP] in a time when I had nothing. Thank you very much. God put [CCNP] in my path so that I may overcome this period."

"From the beginning, I felt supported in my case, and although you could not help me with rental assistance from the Center, I did not feel alone, and I felt like there was hope. I am eternally grateful for the help from CCNP. I feel a lot of trust in [CCNP]."

EMPOWERING TOMORROW'S LEADERS AND SUPPORTING ACADEMIC SUCCESS

were engaged in Youth Programs, benefiting from multiple services available, including academic tutoring, mentoring, internships and volunteer opportunities.

Lizeth E. has been participating in CCNP services since she was in elementary school and is now a senior at UC Riverside! Throughout the years, she has participated in different CCNP services/programs like tutoring, case management, financial coaching and was once an intern! Through financial coaching, Lizeth learned how to budget, save and how to build credit. Her main focus at the time of her financial coaching enrollment was to start a savings fund and work on her credit as she prepared to start college. To achieve both of these goals simultaneously, Lizeth was introduced to the Credit Builder account which would allow her to save for a year while also helping her credit as these payments are reported to the credit bureaus. She finished the program saving around $794 and was invited to CCNP's savings celebration where she received a matched check of $250. Although it was challenging for her to not touch the money, she was glad at the end and it helped her build credit. Lizeth plans to use her money for her upcoming graduation expenses and to pay off grad school applications. Although it has become harder for Lizeth to stay connected to CCNP since she is in college, she still connects with her financial coach to see what new programs CCNP has to offer.

"Thank you for the hotspot we are going to use it a lot at home for our family. Thank you CCNP."

"The laptop will help me for my college years because now I won't have to share one laptop with three other family members. I can now use my personal laptop for my college work and work in general. I want to thank those who provided the laptop and thank you for the support being given to seniors and all students at CCNP."

"Thanks for the device, we recently had to cut our internet connection and we had lost cell phone service because we couldn't pay. The device will be a great help to us."

EMPOWERING TOMORROW'S LEADERS AND SUPPORTING ACADEMIC SUCCESS

The Frida C. Fox Foundation sponsorship was exactly the ray of hope many students were looking for when they sought opportunities at CCNP. This was the first chance CCNP was able to provide students with a paid internship, despite their legal status. This is something that could not have been accomplished if the student had been referred to a YouthSource. Team CCNP is grateful for the opportunity to have impacted the 27 youth and their families.

Fernando a first time intern at CCNP completed a 140 hour internship with AYE Youth Source. Having CCNP as his host site significantly changed his perspective on what it means to join the workforce. He is grateful that he got the opportunity to work and meet new people. "Thanks for placing me at CCNP, the work environment here is amazing."

"Today's workshop was really fun, I liked the group activities, and I learned new coping strategies!"

Cheily H. is a senior in Rise Kohyang High School. Originally from Guatemala, has been dedicating herself to her studies while learning English. On top of being a student, a daughter, and a newcomer, she is college bound. She has taken the initiative to reach out to CCNP and become an intern: "I saw that many of my classmates were completing volunteer hours, and I asked myself, why not me? And now I am here and I love it."

Michelle B had been a participant in CCNP's College Corner programming since Fall 2021 where she engaged as a student volunteer.

Michelle loved the opportunity to give back to the community through volunteering and supporting the Food Security Program or conducting clerical work. "My experience overall was nice due to an amazing, supportive and friendly environment."

Michelle shared that she learned critical thinking skills, she learned how to network, be creative, be a team player and problem solving. By the end of internship, Michelle decided that she would be attending Santa Monica City College to then transfer to Cal State Northridge.

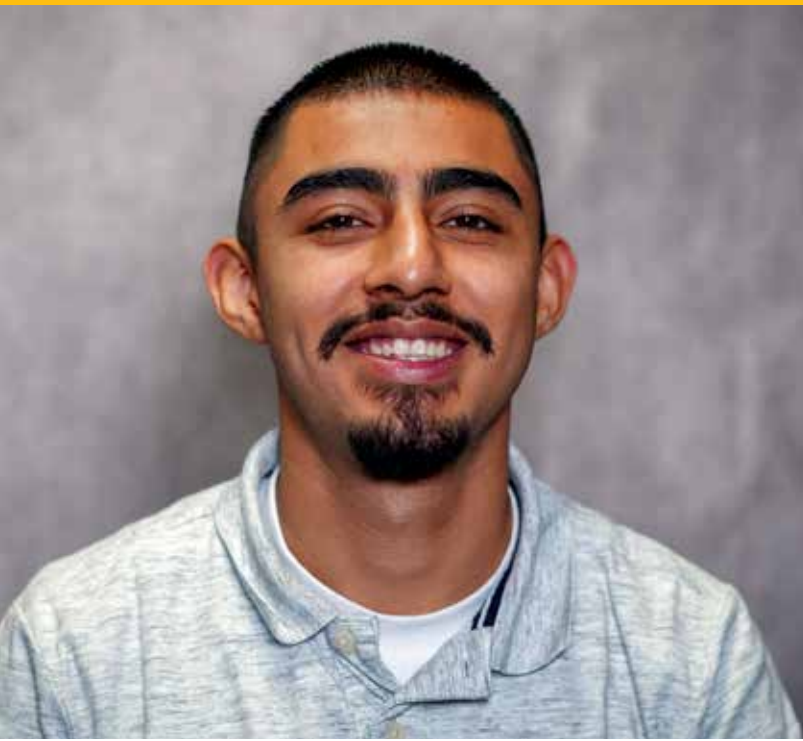

Michelle shared that she would be using the money earned to "pay my driving classes which will help me commute to my school."

Estephany A. is high school student in 10th grade who unfortunately did not qualify for DACA. Estephany had been looking for work opportunities throughout different spaces, however she was unable to locate any work opportunities due to her legal status.

"It was amazing and I met a lot of new people who taught me different perspectives which was great. I learned about teamwork and also patience and hard work. My motivation to complete my internship was finally having something where I felt productive and as if I was part of a community. This experience taught me the value of hard work and how we have to appreciate things more since it is very hard to wake up and have a job."

SPOTLIGHT ON A YOUTH LEADER

Within in one year Luis went from youth participant to part of the CCNP team. Before coming to CCNP, Luis's mentality was to find a job, earn money and spend it. He had no intent for saving his money and had just recently decided to drop out of continuation school to focus on work. However, once Luis started interning at CCNP, he began to open up and trust the staff. He was recognized by multiple staff members as a very driven and hardworking individual. His work ethic preceded him as our very own Executive Director, Margarita, noticed him. Margarita decided to offer Luis a part-time position at CCNP, however to be hired as an employee at CCNP, it is required to have a high school diploma. When Luis found out, he was happy and upset. Upset because he knew if he would have stayed in school, he would have had his diploma and could have secured a steady job. Happy because he knew he had found a new home at CCNP, where everyone wanted the best for him. The job offer Margarita proposed motivated Luis to re-enroll in school. With CCNP's help, Luis graduated with his high school diploma in June 2022 and is now a full time employee at CCNP.

"From bagging up groceries at the food bank, to outreaching to our community about all the resources CCNP provides as an intern, I knew I wanted to work at CCNP. Margarita, offered me a position as outreach coordinator, however, in order to accept the position, I needed my high school diploma. That is when I decided to go back to school and earned my high school diploma. CCNP has helped me grow in many ways, such as helping clients apply for utility discounts, rental assistance and so much more!"

CCNP ANNUAL EVENTS

With joy and enthusiasm, CCNP offers special events annually, including a Women's Wellness Conference, a Financial Wellness Conference, Mother's Day Celebration, Back-to-School Celebration, October Health Month, and several others. Amongst the pandemic, it was crucial for CCNP to continue to offer these events and build community,

"Thank you CCNP for providing me with backpacks for my children. This is one less expense for my family to worry about."

"Thank you for the resources and items. My children will benefit greatly from all this event offers."

At CCNP, we are family.

We are a group of individuals who come together every day to help build unity in our community. CCNP is more than a community center, for many families we serve, we are their second home. For us, the service is bidirectional because the effort we make to better our communities manages to better us as individuals.
